

Published based on Can You Trust the Banfield Pet Insurance?

Can You Trust the Banfield Pet Insurance?

The largest of the veterinarian practices that is in the world today is Banfield. They own over 700 hospitals located in the USA, the United Kingdom, and Mexico. These hospitals have almost 2000 veterinarians that are qualified and are dedicated to caring for our pets, who should get the same kind of medical care that their human owners expect for themselves. This results in every hospital that Banfield owns offers medical services that are state-of-the-art quality, plans for preventative care, horse that are extended, and they happen to be the only practice veterinarian wise, that has a program for quality assurance, in the world.

In October, 1955 the first Banfield Pet Hospital was opened by veterinarian Warren J. Wegert. This number grew and by 2001 the number of hospitals we over 300. Then in 2004 Banfield had managed to sign up over a million pets into their Optimal Wellness Plan. By their fiftieth anniversary celebration in the year 2005, Banfield had expanded to having over five hundred high quality hospitals opened.

After being in business for over 50 years, Banfield has the experience and knowledge to develop a healthcare plan for pets. Its purpose is to cover the yearly and other care that your dog or cat requires to be healthy.

A Banfield Wellness Plan winds up being a comprehensive healthcare plan for pets, which can prolong an animal's life by about 25 percent. It gives the pet owner the right to use at whichever of the over 700 hospitals they are near without trouble, this is great when you move or travel. This plan also offers comprehensive type care at very reasonable prices. You can get services for about half of the standard care cost, because with this plan you get your office visits free for the life of your pets, on top of various discounts on several of their services. This wellness plan gives you a warranty on vaccinations covering up to $1000.

Similar to people the pets can come down with various issues concerning their health over their lifetime. The Banfield Optimum Wellness Plan provides all services your pets require to stay healthy, and stop problems for occurring.

A Banfield Wellness Plan at this time covers cats, kittens, dogs, and puppies. This method is very cost effective as far as providing your pets the kind of care they deserve which includes physical exams, vaccinations, and unlimited free office visits.

It should not surprise anyone to see how much growth Banfield has had through the years, especially when you think of they do give as far as quality service to the pets and their owners that they cohabitate with. We the owners of these animals believe that they should have the right to a life that is healthy, and a long life too. The pets deserve the exact type of care that we humans get and it is obvious that Banfield thinks this way too.

The pets we have can also enjoy the comforts of having insurance as we do, and the wellness plan that Banfield goes the distance as far as providing lasting good health for the pets we own. Our pets are more than animals to us they are family, and therefore merit having the best in medical care, so we do not lose them from our family before their time.

Have you had problems with Banfield as well? Be sure to read the comments in the two following articles: Banfield Pet Insurance Review and Banfield Pet Insurance Secrets. Both are filled with comment from other customers of theirs.